We organized the 1st Iranian Microbiome Symposium and founded the Microbiome and Microbiology Interest Group to promote microbial ecology among biomedical trainees

Interested USERN members are invited to apply to become a member of MMEIG.

The objectives of this group are:

- 1) To provide a training platform in microbiome and microbial ecology.
- 2) To train and mentor members in critical thinking and writing papers.

This group is primarily focused on human microbiome. However, individuals interested in other areas are also welcome.

More information about the group can be found here: https://usern.tums.ac.ir/Group/Info?groupID=50095
